

Another leaf was torn from the calendar during the week, and the first of the autumn months was ushered in with a burst of gaiety.

To society's devotees the outlook for the coming season is a brilliant one. Interest principally centers around the group of autumn brides, all of whom are great favorites in the world of fashion. The first large wedding will be that of Miss Lawrence and Mr. J. H. Young, which event will take place the latter part of this month. Following it will be the marriage of Miss Ethelyn Webber and Mr. George L. Nye, while each week in October will witness one or more weddings of social importance.

The most elaborate affair of the week was the luncheon given Thursday afternoon at the Dixie club by Mrs. J. A. Miner and Mrs. McClure, in honor of Mrs. McQueen.

The decorations in the dining room were in pink and green, the color scheme being carried out in the minutest detail. The round table, with its spotless damask, held as a centerpiece a huge cut-glass bowl of pink and white asters. Radiating from it were garlands of smilax, which extended to each place, where they were fastened to the daintily decorated luncheon cards. Above the center was suspended a basket of feathery asparagus plumosa and carnations. Slide-board, mantle and buffet held bowls of flowers and ferns, while large palms adorned the corners of the room.

Places were laid for Mrs. McQueen, Mrs. Miner, Mrs. O. W. Powers, Mrs. John Zane, Mrs. Hubbard Reid, Mrs. J. L. Frank, Mrs. Robert Glendinning, Mrs. W. C. Wither, Mrs. Alf. Frank, Mrs. McClure, Miss Mearns of Denver, Miss Sherman, Miss O'Connor, Miss Webber, Mrs. Sam. Par.

Mrs. J. F. Millspaugh gave a large reception Tuesday afternoon. The house was effectively decorated for the affair, each room carrying out a different color scheme. Sunflowers and marigolds were the principal decorations. While the reception hall was brightly lit with carnations and nasturtiums. The dining room was in pink and green, asters and sweetpeas being the flowers used.

Mrs. Millspaugh was assisted in receiving the guests by Miss Johnston and Miss Parsons. Mrs. Hoyt Sherman and Mrs. Ira Lewis presided over the dining room, assisted by Miss Paul, Miss Brinton and Miss Grace Young. Miss Laura Sherman served at the luncheon table.
